

Notes from Advocacy group break out session

Hosted by Ashley Street Compiled by Allen McClendon

Oct. 22, 2009

This group engaged participants in dialogue and workshop exercises.

RECOMMENDATIONS:

Indy Parks should make recreation centers available free of charge for meetings etc., to generate public interest in specific parks.

Indy Parks should engage more Boys and Girls Scout troupes to become involved in the parks.

Indy Parks should engage the public through more park-specific neighborhood clubs such as a gardening club.

Indy Parks should partner with community high schools to see how the vocational programs could help contribute to Indy Parks' capital needs.

Indy Parks should do a better job soliciting ideas and opinions from the public.

Indy Parks should invest in more signage to make the public aware of forums, projects, and events within the parks.
